

 For your intranet or to email to your colleagues!

Subject: pension myths

<Greeting>,

A persistent pension myth is that you only need to start thinking about it after you turn 30. That is not true.

Pension often feels like something far away. But it is actually important to know where you stand right now. Even if you are still young: pensions affect all of us.

If you take action now, it can really pay off for later on! Don't worry, you will quickly gain insight into the income you can expect later. Yes, even if your pension feels very far away.

Log in to your personal online pension portal and make your choices!

In your personal pension portal mijn.nn Financial Future you can view your pension(s) with Nationale-Nederlanden. In just a few steps you will get insight into your total future income—and whether it will be enough. You will also be guided step by step in making choices for your pension.

Curious about more pension myths? You can read them here.

<Closing>